

RESEARCH IN CALAMBA

THIS IS OUR PRESENTATION

WHAT IS THE OLD NAME OF CALAMBA?

- KALAN-BANGA
 - was an earthen jar being carried by a young women whom a Guardia Civil stopped to ask for the name of the place.

WHAT IS THE CURRENT NAME OF CALAMBA?

- City Of Calamba
-(LUNGSOD NG CALAMBA)
- BARANGAY IN CALAMBA
-Aplaya

WHAT IS THE TRADE MARK IN CALAMBA?

BAHAY NI RIZAL

-The Rizal Shrine is a replica of the two-story, Spanish colonial style house in Calamba, Laguna where Jose Rizal was born on June 19, 1861.

HISTORY OF CALAMBA

In the early days, Calamba was just a part of Tabuco, now known as Cabuyao. On August 28, 1742, Calamba became a pueblo, separating it from Cabuyao. Progress set in and since then development started to flood in continuously. Calamba became a component city on April 21, 2001 by virtue of Republic Act 9024. According to a legend, the word "Calamba" was taken from the phrase "kalan-banga". Kalan-banga was an earthen jar being carried by a young woman whom a Guardia Civil stopped to ask for the name of the place. Mistakenly thinking that she was being asked what she was carrying, she answered "kalan-banga". Later on, Kalambanga was shortened to Calamba.

BEFORE AND AFTER IN CALAMBA

DELICACIES

- These traditional recipes are out of the bounty of the farm harvest, fisheries and aquatic resources.

Calamba had always their native dishes like the popular “PUTO” (rice cake) varieties including “suman” “kutsinta” ube (purple yam) “malagkit” (sticky rice) maruya (fried banana wrapped in flour), lumpia (spring roll), shing a ling (crispy flour stick), green mango, slices and other native sweet delicacies.

- Also up for the city folks their special native viands from tinola sa bayabas and papaya, “pesang dalag”, sinaing na tulingan, chicken and pork adobo, pancit, stuffed egg cakes, dinuguan, “laing”, home-made longganisa, an array of unique delights and beverages from native “barako” coffee, lemon grass and cucumber juices.

-

TOURIST ATTRACTION

- Calamba, Laguna is considered as one of the busiest cities in the CALABARZON region because aside from it is a center of commerce, there are a lot of reasons to travel to the city. Calamba Laguna has a lot of tourist spots. Calamba Laguna tourist spots are very underrated and unheard of. However, recently, it has becoming one of the nearby road trip destinations of tourists going outside of Metro Manila because of its proximity and accessibility from the country's National Capital Region.

FIRST MAYOR IN CALAMBA

- MAYOR:SEVERINO J. LAJARA
- CURRENT MAYOR:
ROSELLER "ROSS" RIZAL

CURRENT VICE MAYOR

- ANGELITO S. LAZARO JR.

CALAMBA PICTURES

